A FLAGMAN KILLED.

George Long Was Yesterday Fatally Wounded at Summerfield.

Early yesterday morning a fatal accident occurred on the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad at Summerfield, in which one man received wounds that caused his death. The early freight train from Mt. Airy passes Summerfield at five o'clock. The train was going up the grade on this side of the station when the coupling between a coal car and another car gave way and the rear part went back down the grade. George Long, a flagman, was sent to recouple the two sections. He stepped in between the two cars but owing to the constant motion of the cars which were on the grade, it was difficult to successfully connect the two train. Long was compelled to continue walking between the cars to keep up with the moving train and at the same time attempt to slip in the coupling pin. In doing this he slipped and fell beneath the wheels. He fell with his right leg across the rail. The momentum of the train was so great that it was impossible to stop the train before the coal car passed over his right leg just below the groin.

His body was brought to the city but his condition was such that it was thought best not to remove him from from the station here until stimulants and other necessary medicine had been administered. During this time Long suffered no pain as he never regained consciousness. About eleven o'clock he was carried on a cot to the Astley Cooper hospital where Dr. Wilson, assisted by Drs. Michaux and Brooks, removed the mangled leg. The leg was simply hanging to the body by a mere shred of flesh and skin and was clipped off with a pair of scissors. Long lost a large quantity of blood at Summerfield and he was so weak that he never rallied or regained consciousness and died yesterday about one o'clock.

He was accompanied by his mother and brother and Dr. W. C. Davis, of Summerfield. His body was taken to Summerfield where it will be interred this afternoon. Long was about twenty-six years old. When the companies were being formed to go into camp at Raleigh, Long wanted to enlist but his friends persuaded him not not to volunteer. Had he volunteered perhaps he would have been living today.

OUR BOYS MAY GO YET.

The Burlington Company Flunked on Captain Holt.

Much trouble is being experienced in filling up the second regiment. Three companies have lost their places in the regiment through failure to secure their full complement of men. Their places will be taken by other companies. When Captain Holt, of Burlington lined up his company to muster in a number of his men objected to the Washington contingent with which he was combining and flunked at the last moment. Yesterday he sent Lieutenant Britton here to see Captain Schenck and arrange with him to furnish a quota of men. Arrangements were made and this morning Captain Schenck went to work to gather up his men again. If enough men can be secured a new company will be formed, otherwise the squad will be combined with Captain Holt's company. The latter has been given until the 18th inst. to complete his company. This morning Lieutenant DeButts and Mr. McMacken left for Wilkesboro where eighteen men have been promised to secure volunteers. It is the intention of Captain Schenck to take his men to Raleigh on Wednesday morning as that is the last day of grace for the completion of the Burlington company.

Great trouble is being experienced in completing the second regiment. Short companies refuse to combine, saying that if they cannot have their own officers they will not enlist. Captain Gresham, regular officer in charge, is becoming very impatient and if the regiment is not filled more rapidly may give the attempt up. A large number of men, after a short experience of camp life, refuse to be mustered in and this increases the difficulty of filling the companies. It is regarded as very unfortunate that the officers and men of the short companies are so stubborn as to combining. It may result in the failure of the state to raise its quota of men, which would be disgraceful.

SPAIN'S FLEET COMES NORTH

It Has Coaled and Provisioned For a Long Voyage.

THE ARMANDA IS HEMMED IN.

Claimed That They Can Not Escape-- Blockaders Warned That the Spanish Squadron is Coming.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, May 16—The talk here is that the new Armada has been entrapped in the Caribean Sea. News received from Admiral Sampson showing that his squadron controls the northern waters and can cut off the Spaniards before they can reach southern Cuba. It is believed the the Oregon, Marietta and Nitcheroy are coming along the Brazilian coast and can prevent the Spaniards from escaping southward by engaging them until Sampson can come up. The Montgomery, the St. Louis and the Yale are in the vicinity of Martinique and will destroy the Spanish torpedo boat destroyer Terror and set the Harvard which is at St. Pierre free. Schley is rushing to northern Cuba to prevent the escape of the Spaniards northward. The Spaniards are in the centre of a converging triangle.

BLOCKADERS ON THE ALERT.

Key West, May 16—The blockading squadron on the southern coast of Cuba has been warned that the Spanish fleet is off the Venezeulan coast and orders have been issued to Commander Watson to redouble vigilance. Several powerful vessels, which it is unnecessary to name, are ready to lend every assistance to the blockaders necessary to resist the progress of the enemy toward the north. The probability of the Spaniards being able to successfully enter the Cienfuegos is extremely small. It is reported that the government tug Osceola was firing this morning on the Spaniards who were patrolling the coast near Havana. The Spaniards fled without returning the fire.

LEAVES CURACAO.

Washsngton, May 16—Secretary of Navy Long has received official notification of the sailing of the Cape Verde fleet from Willemstad, Curacao. The Spanish squadron sailed last night bound north. All of the vessels of the fleet have been heavily coaled and provisioned as if they were going on a long cruise.

CABLE SEIZED.

Liverpool, May 16—News has reached this place to the effect that the Spanish authorities, acting in the name of their country, have seized the Canary cable.

MORE CHEAP TALK.

Madrid, May 16—Premier Sagasta this afternoon formally handed to the queen regent the resignation of the ministers. She ordered him to form a new cabinet. Senor Moret, late minister of the colonies this morning confirmed the statement that the cabinet changes would result in an aggressive Spanish policy adding that recent events have greatly increased the war spirit of the nation.

The greatest reliance is placed in Admiral Cerveras and the Spanish squadron. The skill of the Spanish admiral is unhampered by instructions, the details of his plans not being known to even the ministers themselves

TROOPS FOR PHILIPPINES.

San Francisco, May 16 — Three thousand troops from Minnesota, Utah, and Oregon will arrive Wednesday and go into camp at Presido.

A FISH STORY.

Key West, May 16—A report just received in this city states that a Spanish fleet has been sighted 18 miles off the northern coast of Cuba.

No Cause For Alarm.

Saturday night about 11 o'clock an alarm of fire was sent in from box 32 at McAdoo corner. The companies promptly responded but after diligent search no fire was discovered. An investigation showed that there had not been any glass over the key on the alarm box for several days. It was presumed that some wayward fellow returning "half seas over" saw the key and, either thinking it was his house key or the temptation was too great to resist, unlocked the door and "touched the button and the companies did the rest." No clue leading to the arrest of the guilty party has been discovered.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News from Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU,
HIGH POINT, N. C., May 16, '98.

Mrs. L. J. Ingram is spending the day in Greensboro.

Mrs. E. A. Bencini has draped her library windows with a set of the most elegant curtains ever sold in this vicinity. The material is an imported silk, has a light gold color, a figure in rocco and floral design, on a dark green ground lined with satin. The fringe, loops, cords and tassels was woven in this country to match the the goods and all in closing to match the walls and ceiling decorations. The curtain was furnished by J. G. Kerner, of the Rubin Rink decorating and house furnishing company, of Kernersville and Winston.

Mr. C. A. Hamner left today on a business trip.

E. D. Steele went down to Greensboro today.

Luther Jones, of Richmond, spent yesterday in the city with his sister Mrs. Ed. Steele.

Mrs. C. W. Worth and children, of Wilmington, who has been visiting the family of J. H. Millis for a few days, returned to their home this morning.

R. T. Pickens, of Lexington, was in the city yesterday.

Ed Smith, of Winston, came down yesterday to see his father who is no better.

Hal M. Worth, of Worthville, was in the city yesterday.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church will give a lawn party tomorrow night in Mrs. Peny's yard on Washington street. Everybody welcome.

Frank Brown has opened a recruiting office here for volunteers to join Holt's company.

Saturday's Excursion.

The excursion run by Mr. W. F. Bogart to Raleigh on Saturday was a decided success. As an excursion manager Mr. Bogart's equal is hard to find. He had a full train of jolly people, among whom were some of Greensboro's best citizens and a large number of ladies. About 180 people came up from Ramseur and other places down that way and joined the excursion at Climax.

With the exception of a few young men who persist in making donkeys of themselves on all occasions there were no unpleasant features of the trip. The ladies and their escorts were provided with reserved cars and they were in no way molested by the red paint slingers.

The excursionists spent a pleasant day in Raleigh visiting various places of interest. The chief place of attraction, however, was Camp Grimes. The Greensboro boys were not forgotten; boxes of good things, hearty handshakes and good wishes in profusion were showered upon them, and they all felt better for having been thus remembered.

They Nobly Fit

The "colored troops fit nobly" yesterday.

There was a Spanish-American encounter in the Charlotte Light Infantry armory a few minutes before 3 o'clock that came very near costing Uncle Sam a soldier, and causing another Saturday murder.

The troops were in the armory learning tactics. Claud Little proved on Earnest Ballard's head that he knew how to make a hit with a gun. Ballard called him ugly names, and he struck him with a nine pound gun across the head, breaking the gun in two, and opening up an avenue of escape for the gray matter under the mansard.

Ballard ran out of the armory screaming, "Police!" "Capt. Taylor" "Capt. Taylor!" "Police!" Officer Cogbill and Capt. Taylor answered immediately. Ballard and Little were both placed under arrest. Little was taken by Officers Cogbill and Pitts and two sergeants to the Tombs.—Charlotte Observer.

The New Truck.

The new hook and ladder truck came in this morning from Chicago and was taken to the engine house. The truck is the handsomest, neatest, and most complete thing of its kind ever seen in Greensboro. It is red, with gold trimmings and all the metal parts are heavily nickeled. All of the axes, extinguishers, etc., have not arrived yet.

The truck is about 30 feet long and the ladders can be raised to any angle and run up to the height of 45 feet by turning cranks. A personal representative of the manufacturers will come Thursday and test the truck and turn it over to the city.

TO ABOLISH STRATEGY BOARD

McKinley and the Silk-Stocking Brigadiers.

GOMEZ WHIPS THE SPANIARDS.

Long Hears From the Oregon—Sagasta Sends a Note to Powers. Precautions at Key West.

By wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, May 16—A friend of McKinley and one who enjoys his confidence said this morning that the president, after mature consideration, had decided to abolish the board of strategy. Authority will hereafter be delegated to the chiefs of the army and navy to formulate their own plans of campaign but they will still be in direct communication with the commander-in-chief. It is said that this action is the result of dissatisfaction on the part of the president at the dilatory plans and general inefficiency of the present board. The friend further declared that the president had from the beginning been strongly in favor of a vigorous war policy but he had been frequently hindred from pursuing the plans he thought best by the red tape of the alleged strategists. He also asserted that McKinley had violently opposed the appointment of sons of celebrities to important commands but their appointment had been forced upon him during the hurried war preparations by the persistent politicians. The friend prophesied that all silk stocking brigadiers would soon be side tracked and supplanted by trained leaders. The official position of the speaker makes it impossible for him to consent to the publication of his identity.

GOMEZ WHIPS 'EM.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 16—In an engagement seven leagues from Cienfuegos on last Monday General Gomez defeated sixteen hundred Spaniards compelling them to relinquish the Jucaro Maron trocha. This is most important as it is near Cienfuegos. The Spaniards were forced to retire on Cienfuegos and the outer works of the city were captured. The Spaniards had been notified by planters of the approach of Gomez.

A fortnight ago General Minora passed Cienfuegos with two thousand Cubans from Puerto Principe and Santa Clara provinces with the intention of invading Havana province and co-operating in the protection of the Americans who attempted to land.

The two hundred and eighty-seven passengers on the British steamer Adula which arrived on Thursday accuse Consul McGarr and the vice consul of fleeing from Cienfuegos without notifying the Americans under their charge that the steamer Beverly had been sent by Consul Dent from Kingston to rescue them.

THE REPORTERS IN QUAD.

Key West, May 16—The government tug Uncas arrived here this morning without Charles Thrall and Haydon Jones the American newspaper correspondents who were captured last week. They are held as prisoners of war and the United States sought to have them exchanged and sent the tug in under a flag of truce accordingly. It is reported that Blanco refuses to exchange them.

SAGASTA'S LATEST MOVE.

Madrid, May 16—Premier Sagasta this morning addressed a note to the powers asking them to declare the blockade of Cuban ports ineffective and unrecognizable.

ON QUI VIVE AT KEY WEST.

Key West, May 16—Extraordinary precautions are being taken for the protection of the harbor here. Extra guards and watchmen are covering all the naval stations. Only government employees are permitted to approach the government dock and the store houses. It is feared that the Spaniards know of the immense quantities of stores which have been collected here and will attempt to capture them by an unexpected swoop.

OREGON HEARD FROM.

Washington, May 16—Secretary Long this afternoon heard from the the Oregon. She is safe but her location will be kept secret.

Another Flagman Hurt.

This morning about eight o'clock Marion Brandt, the yard flagman at the C. F. & Y. V. depot, in coupling two cars had the little finger of his right hand mashed off. The accident was painful and will keep Mr. Brandt from work for several days. Fortunately he received no other hurt. Dr. Michaux removed the mashed member and dressed the wound.

A Grand Funeral.

The funeral of Ensign Worth Bagley at Raleigh this afternoon was, perhaps, the grandest and most elaborate ever given a man of his years in North Carolina. Indeed, it is a question whether any North Carolinian has been honored in death as has been Worth Bagley. Besides being a young man of excellent character, connected by ties of blood with some of the best families in the state, he is distinguished from the fact that his was the first blood shed on the American side of the fight for the freedom of oppressed Cuba.

Worth Bagley will live in the hearts of North Carolinian's long after the last gun has been fired and Cuba is free, and a towering monument will tell to generations yet unborn of the high esteem in which he was held by his fellow citizens and friends in his native Tar Heel state.

The remains passed through this city last night enroute to Raleigh, accompanied by the brother of the deceased. Handsome and elaborate floral designs were also sent along attesting silently yet beautifully the love of his comrades who are still battling for the freedom of the sunny antilles.

Children's Day Exercises.

The children's day exercises at Centenary church yesterday drew a packed house and were among the most enjoyable ever held there. The little folks acquitted themselves with great credit. The success of the exercises is due to the efficiency and untiring efforts of Miss Stockard, of the Asheboro street graded school, who had the entertainment in charge.

MONDAY, MAY 16, 1898.

You can get the telegraphic news twelve hours earlier in THE TELEGRAM than in any paper that gets into Greensboro, and for four dollars a year less.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE.

Our good friend and esteemed contemporary, Webster's Weekly, replying to a recent utterance of this paper anent the fusion proposition says among other things:

But the Telegram gives its whole case away when it says that "if it were demonstrated that fusion means a union in good faith, and permanently on common principles, of the two parties, not a democrat in the state would raise his voice against it." Then, if we understand our esteemed contemporary, the opponents of co-operation do not object to "trading" with the populists, despite all their virtuous protestations; but their concern is that it will not be permanent! If such is their position, it does not lie in their mouths to criticise the Bryan democrats who favor co-operation. A permanent "bargain" is not any more respectable than a temporary one is it? A fact which the profound and acute logician of the Telegram will hardly controvert.

Does the Weekly contend that co-operation upon a given set of candidates for one campaign and a "union in good faith, and permanently on common principles" are identical? If so then further argument is needless. But we take it that the Weekly does see the difference since it adds that it is opposed to a "co-operation for spoils." We were going upon the assumption, based upon the history of the men, that no agreement can be reached with the leaders of the populist party that will be anything other than a "co-operation for spoils." The editor of the Weekly is too well versed in political history not to know that no two political parties can govern jointly and at the same time govern well. Differences will arise, false steps will be made and each party will strive to shift the responsibility for such upon the other. Hostility takes the place of friendliness and co-operation is at an end. Every measure that comes up is an occasion for fresh bargaining. Despite the best intentions on both sides the co-operation resolves itself into a question of spoils. We believe it has been demonstrated beyond the necessity of argument that in a republic the only guarantee of good government is party responsibility. As the Weekly well says the "facts of human nature must be reckoned with in politics as well as in other things" and while human nature, and especially political human nature, is what it is, responsibility for unpleasant things will be shifted to other shoulders where such is possible. We might be able to agree good naturedly on a division of offices once but each successive division would create fresh friction and more heart-burnings until rupture would become inevitable. The last state of the party would be worse than the first. So far as the Telegram is concerned this is the ground upon which it has opposed fusion and not because it gave it a pain to see a populist "record deeds or collect taxes." We take it that this is also the point of view of the majority of anti-fusion democrats. To answer the Weekly's question: A permanent bargain is much more respectable than a temporary one. People look askance at the couple that calls in the services of a divorce court at the end of the honeymoon.

Evidence multiplies that we have a tolerably good sized job on our hands. We have not captured Havana, nor San Juan, nor Manila. We can, of course, but holding them in such a climate is where the rub comes. The annihilation of the Spanish fleet is the cheapest way out of it.

Judging from the number of regulars that have "left Camp Thomas" in the past two weeks Uncle Samnel must now have concentrated at Tampa or on the way thither 947,637 "seasoned troops." Missionary Ridge should be renamed.

Harry and Marion have left Washington to be at the seat of war when the populist hosts gather. Both are unprotected cruisers of the third class and each has a record with a large number of "knots."

All the same the Spaniards do not seem to be slouches in naval tactics. That Cape Verde fleet is giving us more trouble than it could possibly give by fighting.

What is the good of cutting the cable to Havana? There are imaginations in Madrid just as vivid and they know the Cuban local coloring perfectly.

It is a little queer how the fire of the Spaniards kept the Americans from cutting the third cable after all the shore batteries had been silenced.

The cutting of the cable at Cienfuegos at once silenced General Blanco's heavy artillery.

A few experts in telepathy should offer their services to the naval board at this juncture.

"THE IRON CHANCELLOR."

Oratorical Contest at Guilford a Great Success.

Special to the Telegram.

Guilford College, May 16—One part of Guilfords commencement is past and that part was considered by many to be a very important one. All last week one could notice the members of the Henry Clay Literary Society had aome unusual weight upon their minds.

The decorating was the greatest work to be done for the contest and when with the aid of the young ladies that part of the arrangements was completed, satisfaction was evident. The decorations were exquisite. Ferns and palms were banked at the pillars on either side and in thr rear of the large stage. Henry Clay's portrait, hanging on the rear wall of the stage was draped with "Royal purple and white"—the colors of the society. This drapery extended on either side to the extent of the stage. On a wooden pannell up over the front the name of the great orator, for whom the society was named, was put in raised white letters on a royal purple back ground. On a whole the designs for decorating are not to be beat and Mrs. Albright and the ladies os the Philogorean society get the credit for it.

A more pleasant night for a contest could not be wished for and the management was pleased to see people coming in before supper time which showed a special interest.

The program throughout was intering, but we should make a special mention of the music and Mr. Holtons speech. Mr. C. L. Holton won the gold medal by an oration on the subject "The Iron Chancellor." He represented as being the Iron Chancellor, Prince Otto Von Bismark, a great statesman and political hero of Germany. He spoke of him as being one of the greatest men of the age and Germany's high standing among nations today was due to his vigorous and enterprising nature.

The music was highly praised, the song especially "On the Banks of the Wabash" was something new and was sung very commendably. The piano quartette was also delightful as was the song by the Henry Clay Glee club "Whippoorwill."

North Carolina's Record.

The Evening Leader, of Richmond, Va., has said:

The first Confederate killed in the war between the States was a North Carolinian. The first American killed in the war with Spain was a North Carolinian. A singular coincidence.

Upon which the Dispatch, of the same city, comments:

Well, not so singular when one considers the fact that the North Carolinians, though a quiet people, are always well to the front when duty calls.

This is a truth very neatly and very agreeably stated. And in the same spirit the Danville Register says:

Old North Carolina has never faltered in war times. The blood of her sons has been spilled on every field since 1775. They grow in the Old North State the material of which heroes are made.

The utterance of a son of the Old North State, still loyal to his mother.—Charlotte Observer.

Havoc of the Shells.

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, May 14—The French warship Admiral Regault de Genoailly arrived here this morning from San Juan.

She witnessed the bombardment and says the American gunners were very accurate in their firing, while the Spanish markmanship was inferior.

Some of the American shells passed over the fortifications into the city, doing terrible damage.

They crashed through whole rows of buildings and exploded, killing hundreds of citizens.

The fortifications were irreparably injured.

The present whereabouts of the American warships is unknown here. The Montgomery arrived this morning for supplies.

She reports that there was no intention at first of attacking the fortifications.

Notice

At the annual sale of Registered Jersey Cattle from Occoneechee Farm, April 7, 1898, I bought the thoroughbred Jersey Bull No. 3, Romola's chief, 41425 A J C C., sire Meridale Buffer 31346. Dam Romola of Beverly 47960. Romola is one of the best Cows at Occoneechee farms. Her dam was imported. The sire, Meridale Buffer is from dam Meridale coquette, 64535, whose record at two years old in one week was 17 pounds butter. Her grand dam was Ida of St. Lambert, who made 30 pounds butter in one week and milked 67 pounds in one day. The grand sire of Meridale Buffer is Ida's Rioter of St. Lambert. This is is a great Bull, standing for years at the head of Miller Sibleys herd. Also carries theblood of Matilda 4th, 60 pounds milk in a day and 26 pounds butter in a week, Stoke Pogis and Stoke Pogis 3rd. Will stand at my stable near Finishing Mills.

COL. CODY'S WORK.

He Will Act as Scout on Miles' Staff--His Horses in Tampa.

Baltimore, May 13—Col. Wm. F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," who has recently been appointed chief of scouts on Gen. Miles' staff, has placed 400 of his horses at the service of the government to be used by the scouts in tracking the enemy. The animals are now at Tampa, Florida, and their transportation thither was at the personal expense of Col. Cody, who wished to have them on the ground and in readiness in case he himself might be summoned so hastily South as to preclude the possibility of making adequate arrangements for their shipment. The colonel is prepared to leave at a moment's notice.

"My work," said he, in answer to a question, "will be my old role as scout. It will be necessary to send a body of men ahead of the regular army to discover the whereabouts of the Spanish and to inform the main body. There appears to be a fairly general impression that scouts are to do a great deal of fighting, but this is largely erroneous. Such fighting as they do is incidental, and we are likely to do quite as much running as standing.

"The relation of scouting bands to the army is somewhat like that of the recently purchased auxiliary cruisers to the navy, that is, to discover the enemy; but in addition a most important duty is to discover roads, learn the character of the country to be traversed later by the army, and to report accordingly. In case of a Cuban invasion, for instance, a landing will doubtless be effected some distance from Havana and the scouts will familiarize themselves with the most available means of approach to the city."

So Tired! So Tired!

Chronic Dyspepsia!

For ten years I had been a severe sufferer from chronic dyspepsia, which was pronounced incurable. I was completely run down, and in the summer season was not able to do anything and spent a great part of the time lying down. I could not touch meat of any kind, or any solid food whatever, as I could not digest it at all and had to live on crackers and light diet. I was very nervous, would have severe nervous spells, and could not get any natural sleep, I was so restless. I suffered all the time from chronic dysentery, which kept me weakened down. That was my condition when I determined as a last resort to try Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. I had tried so many treatments and so many patent medicines without benefit that I had no faith in anything and had almost made up my mind not to try another thing, when Mrs. Person came to my house last April and induced me to try her Remedy. I bought ½ dozen bottles. Felt no relief whatever until I was on the fourth bottle, when I knew I was getting better. I became stronger, got so I could sleep well and there was no necessity for me to lie down in the day time. I took twenty-two bottles before I stopped. My digestion is now perfect, and I can eat meat, vegetables, and anything else I want, and as much as I want. When I commenced the Remedy I weighed 98 pounds, now I weigh 115 pounds. Dysentery perfectly cured, and it is all owing to Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. It is everything claimed for it.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

J. W. Petty, of Winston spent Sunday in the city.

Rev. L. W. Crawford returned from Asheville today.

Strawberries reduced to 10 cents per quart at Lindau's.

Dr. J. T. J. Battle and J. V. Conyers went to Raleigh this morning.

Judge and Mrs. Coble, of Statesville, were in the city last night.

John and Isaac Dunlap, of Ore Hill were in the city today on business.

J. W. Meritt returned Saturday night from a business trip to Philadelphia.

Col. A. C. McAlister, of Asheboro, passed through today enroute to Raleigh to attend the funeral of Worth Bagley.

Miss Kate Griffin, of Newbern, who has been visiting the Misses Wheeler, in this city, left today to visit friends in Durham.

Charles Portner who has been employed in the Southern freight depot here for some time has been transferred to Raleigh.

A big sale for tomorrow in kid gloves, corsets ane washable dress goods is advertised today by the Sample Brown Mercantile company.

Capt. D. G. Pickard, who has been sick here for sometime went to his home today at Fayetteville. We hope he will soon be able to be on the road again.

Have flowers a language? Well, yes, you'll think so when you hear their quarrel on Wednesday and Thursday evenings at Asheboro street school.

Miss Hattie Hartsell has removed her stenographic and typewriting office from the advocate office on West Market street to 123 South Elm street, at Wingate Bros.

Shrier today presents some facts and figures in his ad which cannot fail to interest the parents of boys who persist in wearing out and tearing out their shoes.

Prof. Bandy spent Sunday with his family here with his family. He tells us that he has surveyed eighteen miles of the new railroad for Duke & Co., from Apex via Holly Springs to a Mr. Williams in Harnett county. This road will open up a very heavily timbered section of country.

In addition to the improvements recently made by R. W. Brooks and mentioned in these columns, he has just had his fence reset with new posts and the walks covered with pulverized granite. When the painting is done Mr. Brooks will have one of the prettiest houses in that vicinity.

"Uncle" Joe Fetzer, an old resident of Greensboro and a great favorite with all the "boys," was in the city today enroute to Reidsville. "Uncle" Joe says he is surprised at the improvements made here since he left the old home, but that he always knew we would wake up some of these days.

Rev. Dr. Gwaltney, one of North Carolina's most popular Baptist divines, spent last night in the city and preached an instructive sermon at West Washington street church. Dr. Gwaltney was on his way to Hickory, to which place he will move about the first of June to take the pastorate of the Baptist church at that place.

The Detective Detected.

Sometime ago a man giving his name as John E. Redmon and claiming to be a detective, wobbled up against Greensboro and struck the authorities here for a job. He claimed to possess the ability to ferret out the secret working places of numerous "blind tigers" and gambling dens here which he promised to do for ten dollars. This was not accepted and various propositions were made all of which the authorities refused.

Saturday afternoon the "detective" visited a suburb called "Jonesboro," drew a pistol on a woman out there and was proceeding to make it lively in the old town when Officer Scott found and arrested him. He was bound over to superior court by Mayor Nelson. Being unable to give bond he gave a watch and a bicycle as security. He has not been heard from since and it is believed he has "cut the cable."

He Cut the Cable.

A man on the excursion last Saturday found it too close for him in the coach and made his way under many difficulties, staggerings and wobblings to the platform. Here he grabbed the handrailing and gently lowering himself to the first step, took a seat. Locking his arms carefully and tightly about the railing he arched his neck, opened his mouth and—cut the cable. It is not the business of the public to know the result of the engagement.

VISIT TO CAMP GRIMES.

How Capt. Gray and His Company Are Living.

Those of our citizens who visited Camp Grimes at Raleigh Saturday were much interested in watching the soldier boys in their camp life. Camp Grimes is located in an old field of pines near the fair grounds.

Alighting from the car a short walk brings you to the "tented field." The tents are carefully placed an equal distance a part. The streets and walks are kept clean. The condition of the whole grounds would make the sanitary officers of many towns ashamed of themselves.

Passing through and viewing the first regiment we reached the first street in the second regiment and here we found Capt. R. Percy Gray and his volunteer company. We found them all in excellent health and spirits. Capt. Gray says he never felt better in his life and that all his men are well and hearty. They are supplied with plenty of good, solid food, consisting of beef, cabbage, beans, potatoes, bread, coffee, etc. Each tent is the home of three soldiers, who are supplied with blankets and straw for bedding.

Taking all in all, the boys are quite comfortubly quartered at Camp Grimes and should they be called to the south sea isle where the daily drill will be supplanted by the heat and fury of battle Camp Grimes will be one of the sweetest recollections of the past. The boys are not afraid to go; but it will not be altogether so comfortable to lie down and sleep when the treacherous Don is prowling around in the same vicinity, as it is in the quiet old pine thicket at Raleigh.

The New Dry Goods House.

Some New Points About Dry Goods.

We think it a great mistake to assume that the people are not competent to judge of quality; for we have found the greater portion competent far more than they are given credit for, and are more astute in judgment than sellers often imagine.

But the safest and best plan to acquire a knowledge of quality in merchandise of all kinds is to settle upon some house, the utterances of which you have found to be trustworthy, and study its merchandise and its statements thereabout.

Knowing how far our influence has reached in so short a space of time in this regard, we can point to the education we have given the people in quality. We began our new business by providing quality, making it an object lesson. We tell the truth about quality; honest words about honest facts. We shall always maintain quality, showing that good merchandise is what the people want, what they expect, what they appreciate and what they will buy.

This is the policy we have laid down for this new business, to educate the people to tell quality: to tell it themselves and to advise others; and this season when there is, possibly, a stronger desire than ever to keep the expenses of living down to the lowest minimum, we see the fruits of our zealous endeavors more than compensative, for our new business is constantly increasing along the lines of valid values and vigorous bargain selling.

EDITORIAL.

We have had the cool wet spell in May. We may now expect the summer season to begin shortly, and to continue without interruption.

—o—

We do not think there is any reason for dreading the warm weather. There are a great many enjoyments peculiar to the spring and summer, without which life would be exceedingly monotonous. Picnics will soon be on hand.

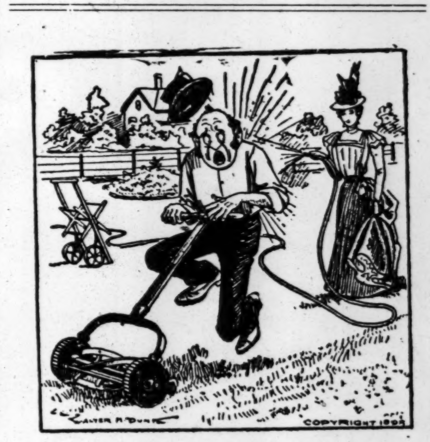
—o—

By the way, have you secured a BICYCLE? The roads will soon be in fine condition for riding. Comfort, pleasure and health demand that you take advantage of the low prices which we are now offering, and supply yourself with a wheel. The Crawford has made a record of which any wheel might well be proud. The price is exceedingly low.

—o—

If you wish an Ice Cream Freezer, a refrigerator, or any other summer specialties, do not forget that we are Headquarters.

ADVERTISEMENTS.



The above picture is very suggestive. What is more pleasant on the evening of a warm day, than to spray your grass and flowers: and if you should accidentally get the hose turned in the wrong direction, the victim will not suffer so keenly as this would indicate.
